

Dr. Assem Safieddine

Assem Safieddine is the Rami Makhzoumi Chaired professor of Corporate Governance at the Olayan School of Business at the American University of Beirut (AUB). He served as the associate dean for faculty affairs and academic programs and as an associate dean for graduate programs and the director of the Corporate Governance Program for years. He is serving as a member of the board's corporate governance committee of Al Hilal Bank. He is the founding president of the Lebanese CFA Society and the regional director of the Global Association of Risk Professionals and the president of the Lebanese Risk Management Society. He served as a member of the CFA Institute speaker retainer program and has been invited to speak on Corporate Governance and other topics at investment firms worldwide.

He holds a Ph.D. in finance from Boston College, and has held faculty appointment at Michigan State University for five years and visiting faculty appointment at Harvard University Summer School for more than four years. His research has been published in leading finance journals like the Journal of Finance, Journal of Financial Economics, and the Journal of Financial and Quantitative Analysis, and has been profiled in the Business Week, Harvard Business Review, CFA Digest and the National Bureau of Economic Research along with others. He has authored as well four case studies covering the governance practices of leading firms in the Middle East and which were published by the Richard Ivey School of Business. His area of research is risk management, capital acquisition, mergers and acquisition, money management, and corporate governance.